

Anvil Rock

15 mins

Moderate track

460 m Return

▲ 14m

3

A nice walk if you are in the area, and worth doing before Pulpit Rock lookout. This walk is not as busy as many of the other lookout walks in the area. The view across the valley is fantastic. The lookout makes a great place for a picnic lunch, and the lack of crowds makes it that much more attractive.

67m

977m

Blue Mountains National Park

Are you ready to have fun?

Please ensure you and your group are well prepared and equipped for all possible hazards and delays. Check park closures, weather information and Fire Danger Rating before setting out. Optional side trips and alternate routes noted are not included in this walks overall grade, length or time estimate. Please allow extra time for resting and exploring areas of interest. The authors, staff and owners of wildwalks take care in preparing this information but will not accept responsibility for any inconvenience, loss or injury you may experience. Please take care, have fun - Happy Walking.

Getting there Traveling by car is the only practical way to get to Anvil Rock car park (gps: -33.5958, 150.3371). Car: A park entry fee is required for driving into the park.

This is a return, so you will finish back at the start.

Find up to date and more information including; travel directions, weather, park closures and walker feedback at <http://wild.tl/ar>

0 | Anvil Rock car park

(230 m 4 mins) Getting there. Drive along the Great Western Hwy to Blackheath (West of Katoomba). Near the train station you will see a signpost pointing to Pulpit rock on Hat Hill Road. Follow Hat Hill Road - After about 2km it turns into a dirt road. Continue along the main road for almost another 6.5 km following the signs to Anvil Rock. There is a carpark at the end of the road. From the signposted corner of the car park, the track exits the car park and initially skirts around a large sandstone rock. It then follows the top of a narrow ridge line. On the walk along the ridge, there are several nice rocky outcrops and glimpses of the Grose Valley. Before long, Anvil Rock will be visible (it is the one with the metal handrails that does look a little bit like an anvil). Nearer to the rock, there is a clear path around to the right. The walk follows the handrail and, once on the other side, there is a large lookout area with wonderful views of the Grose Valley. There is a basic fence around the lookout, but there are a number of potentially dangerous cliffs on this walk, so be careful.

